OF THE MAZOVIA REGION

REGIONAL TOURISM ORGANISATION: A RELIABLE PARTNER IN MAZOVIA

The Tourism Organisation of the Mazovia Region (MROT) was founded in 2006 as a non-governmental organisation to promote tourist assets and to support the development of tourist initiatives in Warsaw and Mazovia. It brings together self-governments, the tourism industry, cultural institutions and non-governmental organisations interested in the growth of tourism in Mazovia. The organisation is a natural platform of knowledge, experience, ideas and services exchange. Presently, MROT has nearly 100 members.

The development of the tourist products and solutions allowing its' smooth market implementation and commercialisation is a crucial part of MROT activity. MROT experts' cooperation with its members and the tourism industry contributes to the growth of local tourism and moreover to the growth in the number of visitors in order for the region to derive economic and social benefits.

Using knowledge and long experience MROT now starts a new activity in the meeting industry supplementing an offer of the capital of the country and of the region – Warsaw showing new inspirations for business meetings in the region surrounding the city.

This booklet presents the best conference and the most interesting venues in Mazovia region.

We hope that this booklet will help you choose your venue and encourage you to exploit the potential of this beautiful region. The experts from the Regional Tourism Organisation of Mazovia will gladly help you with the organisation of your business event.

We look forward to seeing you in Mazovia, the heart of Poland!

DISCOVER MAZOVIA: THE HEART OF POLAND!

Mazovia is a region in central and eastern Poland. The Mazovian Voivodeship is the largest voivodeship in terms of area and number of inhabitants. It occupies 35,600 km² covering over 11% of the country's area. The region is inhabited by nearly 5.2 million people.

The region's biggest city is Warsaw – the capital of Poland. The city has a population of 1.7 million, which makes up 33% of the voivodeship's population. The Warsaw agglomeration plays a fundamental role for the society and economy and it serves as an important European transport hub.

Mazovia lies close to major European capitals. It sits within a two-hour flight from Paris and London and only a one-hour flight from Berlin. A dense network of flight and rail connections to major European cities makes Warsaw and Mazovia easily accessible.

The main advantages of Mazovia include: the highest economic potential among the voivodeships, fast pace of growth and the largest expenditure on research and development. Another great potential of the region are the people, including qualified employees. The most important research centres and academic institutions in the country, including 94 academies and universities, have their seat in Mazovia.

Mazovia boasts also several unique attractions that you simply can't miss:

- Żelazowa Wola – the birthplace of the great romantic composer Frederic Chopin who left his heart in Warsaw,
- Kampinos National Park – a one-of-a-kind forest land that borders the capital - Warsaw, where you can meet wild animals,
- Modlin Fortress – an 18th-century unconquered fortress ordered to be built by Napoleon Bonaparte,
- Vistula River – the only unchannelised river flowing through a European capital, its wild banks are ideal for communing with nature in the midst of the city, e.g. during a cruise on a replica of a 19th-century ship,
- local culture, folklore and cuisine, the melting pot of the East and the West, the Jews, who have lived here for ages, and the immigrants from the Ukraine, Russia, Germany or the Netherlands,
- Warsaw, the city that has the largest number of high-rise buildings under construction in Europe, which owes its attractiveness to the perfect combination of tradition and modernity.

Mazovia makes an ideal destination for a weekend trip among romantic woods, fields and meadows, for activity-filled time in the bustling capital, for doing business and hosting conventions, meetings and other events.

Once you'll see these places for real, you'll never want to leave!
